

Food 4 Thought Is Back in June!

After a three year "pause", the Food 4 Thought small group is planning to gather again! Do you enjoy learning new things? Sharing good food and good conversation? Are you open to new ideas and viewing old ideas with new eyes? Would you prefer not to have any homework or preparation? If your answers are yes, you will want to take part in the Food 4 Thought small group. We meet at 6:00 pm in the Edwards Room (at church) on the first Sunday of every month (except for July when it will be the second Sunday). After a potluck supper, we watch two (half hour) lectures on DVD and discuss/reflect on what we have seen and heard. We are usually on our way home by 8:30.

Beginning on June 4th, we will begin the lecture series titled "The New Testament". The 24 lectures in this series are led by Professor Bart Ehrman and will be a historical introduction to the 27 books of the New Testament. This course will try to address such significant questions as who wrote these books, under what circumstances, and for what audience. We will consider what the books of the New Testament say, what they mean, and how historically accurate they are. Our ultimate goal is to come to a fuller appreciation and understanding of these books that have made such an enormous impact on the history of Western civilization and that continue to play such an important role for people today.

Everyone is welcome to join the Food 4 Thought group, either from the very beginning of the series, or as a drop in any month. Please contact Laurel Williams at LaurelandRandy@gmail.com to be added to the monthly reminder email list.
